WOODROW WILSON FOR PRESIDENT.

Woodrow Wilson was nominated for president on the democratic ticket yesterday at Baltimore on the 46th ballot, receiving a total of 990 votes, while Champ Clark, who had been his strongest opponent all thru the race received 84.

The general verdict is that the democrats have selected a winner; that there was no other man who could have been nominated that has so many friends among both democrats and republicans. Mr. Wilson is a man of progressive ideas and there is no doubt but what he will make a president that the people may be proud of. Following is a short sketch of his life:

Woodrow Wilson, the democratic nominee for president of the United States, was born in the town of Staunton, Va., in the year 1860, being 56 years old at the time of his nomination.

He graduated at Princeton in 1879, then studied law at the University of Virginia, and for two years, in 1882-'83, practiced his profession in Atlanta, Ga. In 1883-'85 he went to Baltimore on the opening of John Hopkins university, and pursued a course in jurisprudence, history and political science, receiving the degree of doctor of philosophy from that institution in 1885, upon presentation of a thesis on "Congressional Government."

This thesis at the time of its presentation created considerable interest among teachers and political scientists and won Dr. Wilson a wide reputation as an original thinker and student of political economy. He was associate professor of history at Bryn Mawr in 1885-'86, and associate professor of history and political science there in 1886-'88; filled a similar chair at Wesleyan university in 1888-'90, and in 1890 became professor of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton. Upon the resignation of President Patton in June, 1890, Dr. Wilson was elected president of Princeton university by the unanimous vote of the trustees, and on Oct. 25 of the same year he was formally inaugurated. His election was regarded as particularly significant from the fact of his being the first layman to be chosen president of the university.

He continued in the presidency of Princeton until his nomination as governor of New Jersey on the progressive democratic ticket, being elected to succeed Edward Casper Stokes, a republican governor, in the fall of 1895.

Gov. Wilson is the author of a large number of books on economics and political science and jurisprudence. He has also written several works on immigration, the latter of which have been the cause of repeated attacks by his political enemies. His most important work is a compendious account of American history, comprising five volumes, under the title of "A History of the American People." This work was published in 1902.

Gov. Wilson is the recipient of university and collegiate degrees from John Hopkins, University of Pennsylvania, Princeton, Wake Forest, Rutgers, Dartmouth, Harvard, Yale and other American universities.

Gov. Wilson married Ellen Louise Axson of Savannah, Ga., on June 24, 1885. He is the son of Joseph R. and Jessie Woodrow Wilson. His mother, who prior to her marriage to Joseph R. Wilson was Jessie Woodrow of Virginia, is still living.

Will Make Home Here.

Stevens Point Journal.—William Baldant, for the two years just past a member of the local high school faculty, was married Thursday evening, June 20, to Miss Hazel Beatrice Chady at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chady, at Waupaca. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Shanks in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and intimate friends, including several from distant states and from other parts of this state.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Baldant stole away for a short wedding trip. They will make their home the coming year at Grand Rapids, where the groom has been engaged to teach mathematics and to be director of athletics in the high school the coming year.

During his stay in this city Mr. Baldant has made many sincere friends not only among his scholars but outside of school circles as well. His bride has a limited acquaintance here and the well wishes of all are theirs.

SONG RECITAL WAS A FINE CONCERT.

The song recital given at the Congregational church on Friday evening by Mrs. Charlotte Lynn-Campbell, was the best thing of the kind ever held in this city and reflected great credit not only on those who assisted in the work, but also on Mrs. Campbell, who drilled the different vocalists both collectively and individually.

It is probable that the work of the chorus was enjoyed the most by the audience for the reason that it is seldom that so many good voices are gotten together in a town this size and rehearsed until they can sing in sympathy with one another. Following is the program that was rendered:

PART FIRST.

Bakery Burned.

The bakery belonging to W. W. Cummings, located on west Grand Avenue, near the St. Paul depot, was destroyed by fire Monday night, the interior of the building being almost entirely consumed, and the building so badly burned as to be a total loss.

The fire was discovered about 11:30 o'clock, but at that time had gained such headway that the interior of the front part of the building was a mass of flames, and notwithstanding the fact that the fire company arrived on the scene promptly, it was impossible to save any of the contents of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings and family occupied the second floor of the building, and when they discovered the fire it had made such headway that they were compelled to make their escape thru an upstairs window, and it was impossible for them to save any of their belongings. Mr. Cummings figures his loss at about $2,000, with only $750.00 insurance.

The building was owned by Joseph Rick, whose loss was also in the neighborhood of $2000, with an insurance of $300.

The building east of the bakery owned by Eric Berg, and occupied for a saloon, was also badly scorched, and was a fire and burned some along the roof and probably damaged to the extent of $200, which is covered by insurance.

Company Changes Name.

The stockholders of the Wisconsin Ice Machine Company held a meeting on Saturday and the name of the company was changed to the American Carbonic Machinery Company. The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

E. Roenius, president.
J. O. Gossman, Vice Pres. and Manager.

O. B. Roenius, secretary.
Oscar Gehling, treasurer.
These with Fred Roenius constitute the board of directors.

The company has an office in Chicago which is in charge of J. O. Gossman, and it is the intention of the company to push the business from now on to the full extent. They report that they have been doing a good business and that the prospects for the future are bright.

Ball Game Sunday.

As the local ball toasters will be out of the city on Sunday, the Grand Rapids Cubs, a strong second team, have made arrangements to play at the ball park with Pittville. The game will be called at three o'clock and admission will be 25 cents, grand stand free. Pittville has a strong team and the home boys have never been able to defeat them. They will have their famous Indian pitcher in the box while Fahrner and Hofstetter will be the Grand Rapids battery.

Week-Larson.

At two o'clock this afternoon Miss Della Larson and Robert Week of Sigel will be quietly married in the Scandinavian Moravian parsonage by the Rev. H. B. Johnson. After visiting in Chippewa Falls, Merrill, Kenosha and Racine the young couple will make their home in the town of Sigel where the groom owns a good farm.

Scandinavian Moravian Church.

The Ladies Aid Society will conduct an ice cream and lunch counter in the old Johnson & Hill Co.'s drug store building on the Fourth.

The Sunday school will hold its picnic at Kipp's Hill, Tuesday, the ninth.

English services will be held on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dagneau of Flint, Mich., are spending two weeks in the city visiting at the Arthur Sickles home and relatives in the town of Grand Rapids.

BIG MUSICAL ATTRACTION COMING.

Add a Attraction for Fourth of July Visitors.

—As an added incentive to out of the city visitors as well as to local theatergoers Manager Daly of Daly's Theater has secured one of the largest musical shows now touring for his attraction Fourth of July matinee and night.

The attraction is Roger Imhoff and twenty-four assistants most of whom are the pick of stage beauty. "Painting the Town" is the title of the musical comedy to be offered at both performances.

It is only by rare good fortune that Grand Rapids will be visited by this organization. The show closes an engagement at Chicago on Wednesday evening and is due to open in Superior Friday.

Manager Daly became advised of this fact and promptly wired the show offering lucrative inducements for a date in Grand Rapids.

"Painting the Town" concerns the adventures that befall an old Irish piper who has been prevailed upon to take the place of a striking orchestra at a swell reception. Among the guests appearing is one Swart McGuff a life long enemy of Casey, the piper. A fight that is at once the epitome of realism and fun making results from the encounter of the two.

Casey will be impersonated by Roger Imhoff, long regarded as one of the most finished Irish comedians on the American stage.

The big chorus will be seen and heard in a dozen musical numbers all of which are recent products of the metropolitan song scribers.

Matinee 2:30. Prices 25, 35 and 50 cents. Night at 8 sharp. Prices 35, 50 and 75 cents.

Crazy Man Gives Trouble.

A. McOrillis, who was adjudged insane in this city last Friday, was taken to Oakshole the same afternoon by Sheriff Schmitt, but the sheriff had quite a time in getting him there.

McOrillis broke away from the sheriff in this city while on the way to the depot, but after a race of about a block he was recaptured and continued on his way to the train.

While on the train and just as it was crossing the Wolf river at Gill's Landing, McOrillis made another bolt for liberty, and this time he dove thru an open car window and into the river below.

When he came to the surface he swam to a boat that was being rowed by a small boy, and the train being stopped he was again taken aboard and continued on his way.

Between times the man was quite docile, and when he made up his mind to do anything it was with great suddenness so that it was impossible to stop him. He was finally landed at Oakshole apparently none the worse for his varied experiences.

McOrillis comes from the town of Arpin and did not appear to be badly deranged.

The above schedule will be carried out subject to any necessary changes. Out this out and keep for reference.

Council in Session.

At the meeting of the city council last night the license of Gust Braun, who operates a saloon near the Green Bay depot was revoked. It seems that Mr. Braun had sold liquor to minors and had admitted the fact, and there was nothing for the council to do but take away his license.

In the matter of widening Oak street it was decided to assess the costs to the surrounding property owners the same as was done when Vine street was widened.

An ordinance was introduced which proposed to muzzle dogs, but the measure was killed.

Aeroplane Here.

The aeroplane that will be used in making the flights in this city tomorrow, arrived here this morning over the Soo line, accompanied by three men.

The Neitzel property on the east side near the pumping station has been selected as the place for starting the flights.

Patriotic Services.

Patriotic services were conducted at the Methodist church on Sunday evening. Several selections of a patriotic nature were rendered by Prof. Merrill's orchestra, and the choir also had some songs of the same nature.

Rev. Pease spoke on the subject of Fourth of July and gave his congregation a very good talk.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Potter, June 26th.
A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith, June 28th.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brennan, July 1st.

Ole Jacobson of Leo du Flambeau is spending a week in the city visiting with relatives and friends.

Drowned While Bathing.

August Yesko, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yesko, was drowned shortly after six o'clock on Saturday afternoon while in bathing near the Green Bay & Western bridge.

Young Yesko and some companions who live near the Green Bay tracks on the west side, had just got home from their day's work, and went to the river to take a bath. It seems that Yesko could not swim and by some accident he got in beyond his depth and before his companions could help him he had disappeared from sight.

The alarm was at once given and the search for the body was commenced long ago. Notwithstanding that every possible effort was made to resuscitate the young man, it was impossible to do anything for him.

August Yesko was born on June 11, 1890, and was consequently 22 years of age. He has lived most of his life in this city, having been born in the town of Sigel. The funeral will be held this afternoon from the German Moravian church, Rev. O. A. Mellicke officiating.

C. W. Bostwick.

Admission, N. Y. Leader.—Owing to a slight mistake occurring in the obituary of the late Chauncey William Bostwick the following corrected account is printed for the benefit of his friends and relatives.

Mr. Bostwick died Friday morning, June 21 at the home of his son-in-law, Alphonse Beaman, with whom he has been living since he came East from Minnesota several years ago.

Mr. Bostwick was born in Hornell in 1832. About the year 1847 he moved to Wisconsin where he was employed as passenger engineer on the railroad for 35 years. Since that time he has been retired. He had been in poor health for several years and was confined to his bed but for two weeks. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Isabel G. Beaman and a number of cousins, nieces and nephews.

Mr. Bostwick was a well known man of integrity and character and leaves many friends to mourn his death. The funeral was Monday afternoon from the house, Rev. Asa Sprague Ashley of Hornell officiated. Burial was in Maple Cemetery.

The Mr. Bostwick mentioned above was for a number of years an engineer on the Green Bay & Western and was well known to many of our older residents.

Dancers Disappointed.

Fifty couples were disappointed last night by the failure of the Pease orchestra of Grand Rapids to arrive to play for a dance at the opera house. The orchestra management arranged by letter with Manager Fred McWhitney for the date and sent posters advertising the event. Failure of the musicians to come is not understood by Manager McWhitney and he is endeavoring to locate the cause.

Tomahawk Leader.

The Tomahawk man tried to saddle off the responsibility of this disappointment onto Dan Ellis, leader of our local orchestra, claiming that he had been in correspondence with him, but Dan wouldn't have it that way, as he never called under the name of the Pease orchestra, and never fails to fill a date when he makes one.

May Go to Milwaukee.

The local band received a notice from the state fair board last week, asking them their price for furnishing music a couple of days at the Milwaukee state fair this fall. The price has been sent in and if this is satisfactory to the board it is probable that they will be engaged.

It was thru the efforts of Attorney Geo. P. Hambrecht that the band received the offer again this year.

Prepare for Business.

Hotel keepers, restaurant men and operators of lunch counters should make some extra preparation for the Fourth of July, for the indications are that there will be a large crowd in town that day, and they will all want to eat. Marshfield people say there will be five hundred down from that city alone, and with those from the surrounding country there will undoubtedly be a crowd.

Will Abandon Fishways.

Experts have investigated the matter and they state that the fish in the river do not use the fishways in the dams and that as a consequence they will be abandoned. They discovered that the only fish that took advantage of the fishways were the suckers, and decided that the cost of maintenance was more than the suckers were worth that need them.

Notice for Bids.

—The school board of St. District No. 4, Seneca, Hansen and Cranmoor will receive sealed bids until July 24, 1912, for the school house in said district located on Sec. 8, Township 22 North, Range 4 east. The board reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

O. J. Lee, Clerk,
St. 2.

Karel for Governor.

Judge J. O. Karel of Milwaukee is receiving considerable notice these days in the democratic press of the state for the office of governor. Judge Karel has many friends among the democrats of the state, who would like to see him the nominee for governor.

New Potatoes.

Will George of the town of Seneca brought a half bushel of new potatoes into town on Tuesday that he dug on his place. The tubers were of good size for this time of year and well formed. Mr. George stated that they had been eating new potatoes at his place for several days past.

STRANGEST COINCIDENCE IN HISTORY
TRUE STORY OF FOURTH OF JULY AND TWO GREAT MEN

On the early days of May, 1775, more than two score gentlemen wearing powdered wig, silk stockings, and wide-brimmed hats, wended their way on horseback or in carriages, from the city of Philadelphia to the city of Independence. They were members of the Continental Congress, and they had a right to their seats, for Lexington and Concord had just been fought, and all of them knew the disastrous details of the old British law of treason.

Among those men were two whose fates from that time forward were to be linked in strange fashion. One of them rode down from the north, the other up from the south. The northerner was a somewhat sour-featured man, nearing the age of forty, whose big wig and the legislative style of his talk betrayed the fact that he was a disciple of the then living Blackstone. The southerner was a man of high physical character, and what inclined to be irascible, contentious and what inclined to be a Puritan. He was a man of high moral character, a devoted patriot, and a man of high moral character.

The man who rode up from the south was younger by seven years, slender of frame, with freckled skin, curly red hair and hazel eyes that betrayed a kindly yet withal a devious nature. He was a man of high moral character, a devoted patriot, and a man of high moral character. He was a man of high moral character, a devoted patriot, and a man of high moral character.

These men were John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. They were both men of high moral character, a devoted patriot, and a man of high moral character. They were both men of high moral character, a devoted patriot, and a man of high moral character.

Pleasant Hill

Just three or four weeks ago we were wishing for dry weather; now it is for some moisture. Corn and potatoes and garden stuff need it badly.

Our farmers are mowing and putting up hay. Ed Christensen reports two tons of fine clover to the acre on ground that he had in barley last year and no clover seed sown. Who can beat that? If you would tell that to an Illinois or Iowa farmer he would call you a prevaricator or some other name with four letters in it. You can't beat Wood County.

P. H. Likes and wife spent last Sunday with L. A. Coffey in Cary.

John Stauber, aged fifteen, and whose home is at Marshfield, had a foot taken off when he was run over by the Soo line extra freight No. 246, south bound, at that city at about 8:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Stauber is an employee of the Roddis Lumber & Veneer Co. and he had jumped onto the freight in the up town section, intending to ride to the plant, which is some distance east, thinking the train would stop at that point. However, when the plant was reached, the train was going at a good rate of speed and Stauber, in attempting to drop off, was thrown beneath the wheels. He was removed to the hospital, where the foot was amputated at the ankle. It may be necessary to perform a second operation, this time to amputate below the knee.

Death of Peter Bever.

Marshfield Herald.—Sudden and most unexpected was the death of Peter Bever which occurred at his home 425 North Central avenue Wednesday morning at 6:45 o'clock. The day previous he went to Grand Rapids to visit his son Jacob, and while eating dinner was suddenly taken with a stroke of heart trouble. He rallied and accompanied by his son returned to Marshfield the same evening. Throughout the night he rested comfortably and got up in the morning as usual. His son Jacob had gone to the train to return to his home but before starting received the news of his father's death, deceased passing away almost instantly. A month ago Mr. and Mrs. Bever celebrated their golden wedding, a full account of which appeared in the Herald.

Mr. Bever came to Marshfield 29 years ago and has resided here continuously ever since with the exception of four years which were spent in Grand Rapids during his two terms in office as county treasurer, from 1900 to 1904. Returning to Marshfield, Mr. Bever in connection with his other business as manufacturer of soft drinks and cigars served the city five years as assessor. For several years past he has devoted his time to the manufacture of cigars, conducting a small grocery in connection. He was a respected citizen and a man who prized his good name above all else. He is survived by his wife and a family of twelve children, thirty-three grand children and one great-grand-child. The immediate family consists of Arthur, Arnold, Nicholas, Anton, John and Mrs. Mary Christman, this city, Jacob Bever and Mrs. Burt Cummings of Grand Rapids, Peter Bever, Duluth, Minnesota, and Messames Abitz and Hirsch of Wausau and Mrs. Stephen Britton of Rib Lake.

The funeral will take place this forenoon from St. John's Catholic church. To the bereaved family the entire community extends condolence.

The Brush Runabout $450

F. O. B. Detroit, (Fully Equipped)

THE CONDITIONS

On Independence Day, July the fourth, 1911, there was to be made the most startling announcement ever coming from the automobile industry—the offer of a guaranteed efficient motor car for $550, the Liberty-Brush. The day was a fitting one for this action, because it marked the independence of thousands of families from the horse, the trolley and the train. It meant freedom from numberless inconveniences, wasting of time and money.

As a proper introduction there was proposed the unique idea of an economy and efficiency contest for the one make of automobile. The Brush had long been recognized as a wonder in these two factors of a motor car's life, and it had outdistanced competitors of other brands. So the Brush runabouts competed among themselves.

Dealers country-wide responded with entries, and each car carried its driver and an observer, the latter a newspaperman, business rival, or other qualified person, whose duty was to measure the gasoline and oil consumption at the 100-mile mark and to note any repairs or adjustments, and the elapsed running time.

The final award was made upon the basis of cost, charging 18 cents per gallon for gasoline and 50 cents for the same amount of oil.

THE RESULT

Economy records in previous contests were easily surpassed. The new figures proved conclusively, first that the Liberty-Brush is the least expensive method of transportation—cheaper than a horse or trolley; second that it saves one-third of your time, the equivalent of increasing your income; third that a motor car at this initial cost and this cost of maintenance is available for every man.

The winner of the Brush Economy Contest was driven by Y. B. delValle of Los Angeles, Cal., and made the phenomenal record of 100 miles for 89 cents. It ran over Southern California roads and used but two gallons and one-half pint of gasoline and one pint of oil. This is an average of 48.4 miles per gallon of the former and 800 miles per gallon of the latter. It had no tire or mechanical trouble.

The second car was also a Californian, running on the same day, but with very different weather and road conditions. It was sent out by A. D. McMillan of San Francisco and cost 48 cents—using one quart more gasoline than the victor, and the same amount of oil, also had no tire trouble.

The average cost of 65.9-10 cents for the 100 competing Brush cars represents the consumption of less than four gallons of gasoline and 1-1-13 pints of oil apiece. The average mileage of 25.9-10 miles per gallon of gasoline and 600 miles per gallon of oil has never been approached by any other make of car.

Note the wonderful consistency! Ninety-eight cars traveled the 100 miles for a cost of less than one dollar apiece. That you may know all sides—here is the poorest record: It averaged 15.38 miles per gallon of gasoline and 200 miles per gallon of oil. 100 miles for $1.80. How many cars can equal even this?

Can you equal this showing with any motor car of which you've ever heard?

Think what this means!—Unparalleled reduction in the cost of transportation, and liberty to go where and when you will, at the lowest expense rate ever recorded. You recall claims which you have seen elsewhere that the Liberty-Brush can be operated for a cent a mile. How modest were these statements has been proved in this contest.

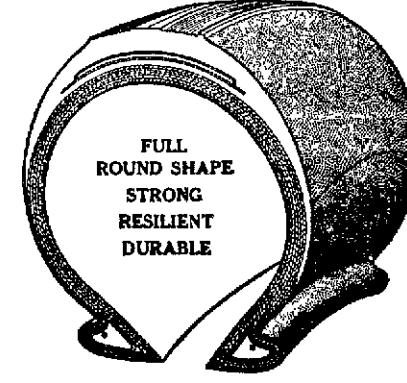

Physicians, farmers, salesmen, contractors, R. F. D. carriers, and scores of other professions and businesses are represented among those wide-awake men who have given up the horse for the Liberty-Brush. Mercantile concerns can see in it an economic business proposition for their representatives, and for quick, light delivery.

Consider it in your own case! You can go three times as far with the Liberty-Brush as with a horse—in the same time. Thus you can do three times as much work. How much more money could you earn in the time you save? You must answer that yourself. Now about cost—it has been shown conclusively that the Liberty-Brush costs less for fuel, maintenance and wear, than any other car, and the expense is so small in proportion to that of keeping a horse or paying carfare that there is no comparison. For the first time, moreover, a motor car is now offered for the same initial cost as that of a good horse, carriage and harness.
